

The following articles in Gwent Local History Journal all make use of data found by the ALHS Research Group.

Copies of the journals can be obtained from strong@btinternet.com For details of previous issues and cost https://gwenthistory.org.uk/?page_id=150 Group members have also contributed many articles to the Summer Newsletters.

Entertainments at Abergavenny Castle 1880 to 1914 by Gill Wakley. Gwent Local History Journal 2015, no 117.

Civic Activities in the Abergavenny Vestry Book in the Eighteenth Century by Gill Wakley & Sue Smith. Gwent Local History Journal 2016, no 119.

Churchwardens and Church Affairs in the Abergavenny Vestry Minutes 1702-1804 by Gill Wakley & Sue Smith. Gwent Local History Journal 2016, no 120.

Poor Relief in the Abergavenny Vestry Book 1702-1804 by Gill Wakley & Sue Smith. Gwent Local History Journal 2017, no 121.

The Great War: What was it like in Abergavenny? by Gill Wakley & the Abergavenny LHS research group. Gwent Local History Journal 2018, no 123.

The Foster Family and their influence on Abergavenny 1887-2005 Particularly in the Construction of Fosterville Crescent. Margaret Giles. Gwent Local History Journal 2019, no 125.

Visit Abergavenny, Gateway to Wales. Researches into Tourism to Abergavenny and district - The Early Years. by Gill Wakley and the Abergavenny LHS Research Group. Gwent Local History Journal 2020, no 127.

Rachel Herbert: The Extraordinary Story of a Benefactor, a Deceitful Solicitor and the Chartists. By George Beale. Gwent Local History Journal 2020, no 128.

Did Where You Lived in Abergavenny in the Mid-Nineteenth Century Affect Whether You Lived or Died From Infectious Disease? by Marilyn Diosi. Gwent Local History Journal 2022, no 132.

An annual subscription to Gwent County History Association (email strong@btinternet.co.uk) Membership form and cost: https://gwenthistory.org.uk/?page_id=14